

Lissa Gilmore
STEM Programs - Outdoor Education
San Joaquin County Office of Education
Stockton, CA

Lissa is a Coordinator for the STEM Program at San Joaquin County Office of Education.

She received her bachelor's degree in Marine Biology from the University of California, Santa Cruz and her Master of Arts in Educational Administration from the University of the Pacific.

As a Coordinator, she manages the day-to-day operations of our Outdoor Education program located at Camp Jones Gulch in the Santa Cruz Mountains. Lissa is also the Coordinator for the San Joaquin County STEAM Fair.

Lissa has 14 years of classroom experience as a 7/8th grade science teacher and 5 years experience as a Professional Development Coordinator for San Joaquin County.

Lissa and her husband have two boys and enjoy camping, hiking, scuba diving, and daylong Monopoly games on rainy days.